Ominous Lull Along Front; Expect New Red Attacks

TOKYO, Jan. 18 (AP)—Tank-led Allied troops battled two companies of Chinese Reds tonight in a brief but fierce local clash on the Korean western front.

The U.N. patrol, under air cover, then smashed out of a threatened enemy envelopment.

Allied commanders expected a general Communist offensive may come at any time.

"All hell might break loose soon," an officer said.

Explore Enemy Strength

A U.N. raider patrol, one of several exploring the strength of enemy troops massed all along the battle front, jabbed in and out of Kumyangjang, 25 miles southeast of Seoul and called for air support when it appeared his troops were being flanked.

The commander of the Allied motorized patrol said he met strong resistance in Kumyangjang.

But after 90 minutes of tough fighting he said both his patrol units had safely withdrawn from the battered town, Associated Press Correspondent Jim Becker reported.

The fight started at 4 p.m. Thursday (2 a.m. E.S.T.), Becker said, and when the U.N. units disengaged they had taken one prisoner.

Two companies of Communists were involved in the engagement with the tank-led U.N. forces. It estimated 25 Reds were killed. The doughboys, fighting their way out of the enemy flanking threat, suffered some casualties and lost some equipment.

Ominous Quiet

The Kumyangjang battle was the heaviest action reported by Allied patrols probing the far-flung lines during the day. They penetrated as far as abandoned Wonju, 26 miles north of Chungju, a road hub in U.N. hands.

An ominous quiet prevailed in most sectors but there was abundant evidence of heavy Red troop concentrations.

A pro-offensive buildup of enemy troops became evident Wednesday night when U.S. Fifth Air Force B-26 bombers sighted six Red troop trains and attacked five. Pilots claimed one was destroyed and four others damaged.

Patrols Locate Reds

Highway convoys totaling more than 400 Red vehicles likewise were spotted and attacked on roads leading to central and western fronts.

A rough outline of enemy positions was drawn by accounts of patrol activity. The line slants southeast from Seoul to Yongwol, 97 miles from the fire-blackened South Korean capital. Yongwol is 33 miles northeast of Chungju, road junction city held by the Allies. Red deployments appear to be designed to cut off Eighth Army forces strung out from western Korea toward the old Pusan frontier, on the southeastern tip of the peninsula.

Meets Three Local Servicemen In Tokyo

Seaman Fred P. Haehnlen, Jr., son of Prof and Mrs. F. P. Haehnlen, North Stratton street, has met 1st Lt. James A. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Smith, Chambersburg street; James Fleck and Frank Fissell, also of Gettysburg, since arriving in Tokyo.

He wrote his parents here concerning the activities of Smith, Air Force Supply officer in the Tokyo area, and told of Lieutenant Smith flying supplies to Iwo Jima, among other duties. Fissell is also in the air corps and Fleck is a member of a navy air rescue squadron.

Seaman Haehnlen, who is staying on a ship anchored in Tokyo bay, is employed in the naval communication center set up in a Tokyo hotel. He has been serving with the navy since September 7 when he was recalled to duty as a member of the naval reserve. He served in the navy during World War II and joined the reserve upon his discharge in August 1946.

SEEK $8,000 IN CURRENT DRIVE FOR POLIO FUND

The Adams County chapter of the Infantile Paralysis Foundation today announced names of committees for the current March of Dimes campaign.

Responsibility To Ourselves

Congressman Brown denied that he was an isolationist, but, he said, "Our first responsibility is to ourselves. Let us pray that we can build our national defense in time."

"America should learn," he said, "that we cannot buy friendship." He cited the loans to Great Britain and France and the sale by these countries of supplies to the Reds, and excoriated the reluctance of these and other nations to send adequate forces to aid the Americans in Korea against the Chinese Reds.

Upwards of $8,000 is sought by the county chapter during its current drive for funds. Of that amount $4,000 would remain in the county and $4,000 be forwarded to the national Infantile Paralysis foundation.

8 Victims Here Last Year

At least that amount will be needed if the county association is to have sufficient reserve to meet anticipated needs next year and if the national foundation is to secure sufficient funds to carry on its work.

During the last year the national organization went $5,000,000 in debt to help persons suffering from the disease and to carry on research work in infantile paralysis. The local chapter expended approximately $100 more than its income of $2,874.25 during the year, but was able to dip into reserves to carry the deficit.

Eight Adams countians suffered from infantile paralysis during the year. A total of $2,482.12 was expended in aiding them during the year. Other amounts went to help persons who had suffered from the disease in previous years but needed additional care during the period of recuperation.

The Mademoiselle club plans to hold its annual card party January 25 in the firemen's hall at York Springs, with admission to be 50 cents.

CONGRESSMAN SAYS UNCLE SAM "WALKS ALONE" IN WORLD CRISIS

The United States stands today in an extremely dangerous world situation, and with the possible exceptions of Australia and Canada, it walks alone," Congressman Clarence J. Brown, of Ohio, told members of the Adams County Shrine club at its annual dinner at the Hotel Gettysburg Wednesday night.

Surviving are two children, Mark A., at home, and Mrs. Earl F. Angel, Keymar, Md.; one grandchild; two great-grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Alice G. Musselman, Hanover.

Funeral services Saturday at 2 p.m. from the Pender funeral home conducted by the Rev. Amos Myer, interments in Flohr's cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening after 7 o'clock.

GRAD'S WORK PUBLISHED

An article, "Acute Radiant Syndrome," which appears in the current issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, was written by Dr. John Z. Bowers, a graduate of Gettysburg college with the class of 1933. Dr. Bowers is at present dean of the University of Utah College of Medicine, Salt Lake City.

What seemed the government's greatest desire at the present time—according to a number of those living in the area—is ownership of the 1,500-foot high, mile-long hill known locally as "the Beard Lot."

"The Lot" has had a number of owners. It's principal owner at the present time is the Rev. Alfred Holt of Baltimore, who purchased it after some Fairfield area residents had bought it to take the hump from it, and found that in many sections it was too steep to permit logging.

May Retain Homes

Harold Carson, owner of a store and filling station at the entrance to the Sunshine trail, and one of the property owners whose land is affected, said Tuesday night that government agents had been "dickering" with him and with Hoy Martin, Mrs. Emma Warren and Glenn E. Martin concerning purchase of their properties. In regards to his own land, he said that he had not made up his mind as yet what to do about it.

Those offering to buy for the government, he said, told him that he could, in all probability, continue to live in his home and possibly conduct his store and pay rent to the government. "They said that when things quieted down I could probably buy it back. But if I sell, I'll probably buy somewhere else and stay there," he noted.

Residents of the area were certain that the government planned to begin work soon in the area.

One of the owners said that the government agents who met with him said they had to have their business finished—apparently the purchase of the properties—by January 22, next Monday. Those seeking to buy the land were described as civilians, driving a government car.

Buying Friendship

We have spent 50 billion dollars in the last ten years in an attempt to buy friendship. We have helped practically every other nation in the world. We have given to Great Britain since 1940 direct monetary aid of over 36 billion dollars, and we borrowed every dollar of it. There are few British soldiers in Korea, and yet Great Britain, the country to whose rescue we went, has already recognized Red China and is trying to tell us that we must let these people sit as our partners in the councils of the United Nations.

One hundred and seventy-five attended the annual congregational dinner meeting of Christ (College) Lutheran church Thursday evening in the Sunday school rooms at the church.

Elected at the meeting to serve on the church council were Charles Black, George S. Forney, Philip M. Jones, Dr. Lloyd C. Keefauver, Blaine Saltzer and Paul L. Spangler.

The Rev. Wallace E. Fisher, pastor of the church, presided at the meeting. His annual report showed that 51 adult members were received into the church during the last year and that total expenditures for the year were $18,892, of which $6,305 was given to the benevolent causes of the church at large.

Reports from all auxiliaries and organizations of the church indicated growth during the last year.

The turkey dinner with which the session began was served by the Women's Service Guild.

RECRUITER AT YORK

The navy recruiting office in York announced today that a navy recruiting officer will not visit Gettysburg again on Wednesday afternoons until further notice. Anyone desiring information or wishing to make application for enlistment should contact the York recruiting office in the post office.

Russia, he said, is not officially in the war, but will direct it "as long as she can use other countries."

"Part of our navy is off Formosa now keeping the Chinese Nationalists, who hate the Reds, from fighting them. It again makes one wonder, how stupid can a nation get?"

Alaska Wide Open

Alaska, the congressman said, is wide open, with between 350,000 and 400,000 well-trained Russian troops within 100 miles of the border. "In the world today there are likely to be 900 million people arrayed against us."

Declaring that self-government will fall if its own weight when the people accept their freedoms with complacency and the demagogues are, the speaker recalled a prediction that the American Republic could last only 150 years, and said "this 150 years has come and gone, we are living on borrowed time."

They include a 45-acre farm for nearly owned by the Cools, a 35-acre farm known as the Kehr farm, and an eight-acre tract off the John D. Wolff farm. Possession will be given January 20. The sales were made through C. A. Heiges and Son, Buford avenue.

U.S. SEEKS TO INDICT REDS AS "AGGRESSORS"

Lake Success, Jan. 17 (P) — The United States plans to seek an indictment of Red Chinese aggression at an emergency meeting of the United Nations Political committee today, called to consider Peiping's rejection of its latest Korea peace bid.

On orders from Secretary of State Dean Acheson, the American delegation prepared to introduce a resolution which would condemn Communist China as an aggressor and the U. N. Collective Measures committee to decide what to do next. The U. S. has previously said it thinks that the 14-nation group should recommend a complete economic and diplomatic break with the Peiping regime.

The U. S. began lining up support for its resolution yesterday, but response in many quarters appeared to be less than enthusiastic.

Hope for Backing

An American spokesman said this country hoped for wide co-sponsorship of the resolution, including some Asian countries, but indicated the necessary preliminaries might delay introduction until tomorrow.

An independent survey of Asian opinion showed only the Philippines, Thailand (Siam) and Turkey in substantial agreement with the U. S. position.

India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said in Paris yesterday that such action would "bolt and bar the door" to a peaceful solution of Far Eastern problems.

Says Door Not Closed

His representative here is expected to argue that Peiping's reply did not completely close the door, as the U. S. maintains it did, and further efforts should be made.

The U. N. proposal offered the Chinese Reds a political conference to settle the future of Formosa and whether the Nationalists or Communists should have China's seat in the U.N. It demanded a cease fire in Korea first.

Peiping countered with a rejection of the cease fire plan, and called for a seven-power conference in China to solve Far Eastern problems coincident with withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea. It also insisted on U.N. membership before the conference.

Acheson immediately denounced Peiping's proposals as completely unacceptable to the U. S. He said he thought the U.N. generally would agree with his position.

DUFF GIVEN SENATE OATH

Washington, Jan. 18 (P) — James H. Duff became Pennsylvania's junior senator today in a brief ceremony watched by nearly 1,000 residents of the Keystone state.

The red-haired former governor was escorted to the rostrum by his colleague, Senator Edward Martin, also a former governor. The formal induction of Duff, with Martin also continuing to serve in the Senate, gives Pennsylvania two Republicans in the upper house of Congress for the first time since 1935.

The oath was administered to Duff by Vice President Barkley shortly after the Senate convened at noon.

Hundreds of well-wishing Pennsylvanians who came to Washington by special train for the occasion watched the ceremony from the visitors' gallery.

Among them were Gov. John S. Fine, Republican, who took over the governor's office from Duff Tuesday; State Senator M. Harvey Taylor, state GOP chairman; Lieut. Gov. Lloyd Wood, and State Attorney General Charles Margiotti.

Duff, who is 67, had arrived at his new three-room office suite about two hours earlier. Virtually every desk and table was covered by baskets of flowers. Many congratulatory telegrams also were received.

Chambersburg Will Oppose Warriors Here Friday Night

Their hopes boosted considerably is the result of the fine showing made at Hershey Tuesday evening, the Gettysburg high Warriors have taken on new determination for their game with the powerful Chambersburg high team here Friday evening.

The Warriors gave their best team-play exhibition of the season against Hershey. Heretofore individualism was prevalent but it now appears more team work can be counted upon which should add more punch to the squad.

Chambersburg and Hanover are currently tied for second place in the South Penn league, one game back of the pace-setting Hershey team.

Coach Lowell Schlichter's Franklin countians have won the South Penn title for the last seven years and are still given a very good chance of adding their eighth championship despite a surprise 48-5 loss to Hershey at Chambersburg last week.

Trojans Well-Balanced

The Trojans have height, experience, speed and scoring punch.

Like Waters, veteran guard, is an all-league choice and Ben Walker, Bob Reid, Gerry Steger and Davis provide additional experience that backs Chambersburg with the best.

The Warriors, who have won three while losing six during the campaign, are at last beginning to show signs of strength. Coach Forney's charges will go all-out against Chambersburg which rules a top team favorite.

The preliminary game on Friday promises to be another hotly contested affair. Ross Sachs' Jayvees are in second place in their division while Chambersburg leads with a 4-0 record.

Other league games listed for Friday include Hershey at Shippensburg where the Greyhounds may cause some trouble after upsetting Mechanicsburg on Tuesday; Hanover at Mechanicsburg with the Hawks favored, and Waynesboro at Carlisle with the home team gain picked.

Junior High Away

Roger Herr's Gettysburg junior high team plays its initial Southern Division game in the Junior High circuit Friday at Waynesboro. The boys, who won the division and league championship last season, sport a 3-1 record this season.

One game will be played in the Adams County league tonight, East Berlin at Boiling Springs. The girls' game meet in the preliminary. On Friday the league games will include Littlestown at York Springs, and Biglerville at New Oxford.

Delone Catholic will meet Harrisburg Catholic on the latter's court Friday night.

9 SCHOLASTIC CAGE QUINTETS ARE UNBEATEN

Harrisburg Jan. 18 (AP) — There are only nine responses today to a call for Pennsylvania's major unbeaten schoolboy basketball teams.

Those proudly proclaiming their all-winning records in interscholastic competition were Aliquippa, Bethlehem, Bradford, Johnstown Catholic, Mahanoy City, Mercer, Philadelphia Northeast, Schuylkill Haven and York.

York, 1949 Eastern PIAA Class A champion, boasts the most victories—13. However, the Bearcat's record bears a slight blemish—a defeat by their own alumni. The Bearcat's record is strong to win their fourth straight district three title, as well as the Central Penn conference race.

Two members of the honor list—Johnstown Catholic and Philadelphia Northeast—won't compete for the annual PIAA state championship. However, the Johnstown club is a heavy favorite to annex the state Catholic Class A title and Northeast—with nearly 5,000 boys enrolled—is leader in the Quaker City public high loop.

Face Biggest Tests

Aliquippa and Bethlehem face the biggest obstacles to their unbeaten marks tomorrow night.

Aliquippa, 1949 PIAA State Champion, battles potent Farrell, loser to Johnstown Catholic. The tilt to decide the first half winner of the PIAA's section 3 should be one of the season's highlights. The victor is a good chance of winning the district seven crown as defending state and WPIAL champion Homestead is having its troubles.

Aliquippa was extended into overtime Tuesday night to turn back Ellwood City, 49-43.

Across the state at Allentown, the Bethlehem Bulldogs aim to sweep up the first half of the East Penn Conference by turning back Allentown's twice-beaten Canaries. Bethlehem and Allentown Catholic, its first league loss, 59-43, Tuesday night while Allentown was dropping Hanover, last year's titlist, 63-61.

York Needs Win

York can clinch the Central Penn first half by stopping twice beaten leading while the Wyoming Valley top initial round depends on clash between Berwick and Nanticoke, both unbeaten in the league. Nanticoke eliminated defending champ Plymouth, 40-31, Tuesday.

Mahanoy City has been all alone in the Black Diamond with its latest

PUNK MUNDORFF APPROVES T-V

Roy "Punk" Mundorff, athletic director at Georgia Tech, and son of Mrs. Emma Mundorff, West Middle street, is among those who approve of television of athletic events as a means of creating fan interest and ultimately boosting attendance.

In a recent interview he said: "Because of a very small seating capacity (the Georgia Tech gym holds but 1,800) we are unable to open the gymnasium for any public sale of admission tickets. TV provides a medium that allows fans who are prevented from viewing these games to see them on the screens."

"Secondly, TV will create fan interest in basketball so that when Tech's 10,000-seat Memorial Field House is completed, fans will be so educated to basketball that they will want to see games first-hand."

"I think that there will be a period of several years during which sports promotion will suffer because of live television. However, I'm convinced that the TV cameras will increase interest in sporting events in the long run."

Mundorff starred in baseball and track at Gettysburg high school and college. He graduated from Gettysburg college in 1921.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

Galveston, Texas, Jan. 18 (AP) — Lloyd Jordan, the grey-haired Harvard coach, and Dartmouth's Tuss McLaughry were discussing world affairs during a break in the football rules meeting. "Look!" Lloyd asked, "who's going to have the best football teams in the next few years? . . . Army and Navy. . . So why not train all the boys in the colleges? . . . They don't have to sleep until 10 a.m.; get them up at six or seven. Given them their military training—whatever the Army wants—and then get them out to practice football for an hour or so in the afternoon in whatever time is left after classes. . . . The coaches can give them condition and discipline." . . . Jordan can elaborate at length on this theme, but his main idea is that this period of wars and disturbances is just "normal times" for kids of college age. They've never known any other. . . So it is up to the colleges to adjust their programs to that fact and give students the philosophy and mental and physical training that will enable them to cope with such conditions.

CAGE SCANDAL MAY SPREAD TO OTHER SCHOOLS

New York, Jan. 18 (AP) — College basketball's latest scandal, involving Manhattan college, may spread to other colleges.

This was indicated today in the wake of yesterday's disclosure that a Manhattan player had been offered $15,000 to throw Tuesday night's game against DePaul in Madison Square Garden, a bribe attempt that failed and led to the arrest of two former Manhattan players for throwing games last year and three men described by police as "fixers."

Edward J. Breslin, assistant district attorney of the Bronx, said he had been told that other players in New York and other cities were "doing the same thing."

And Kenny Norton, Manhattan coach, asserted: "I feel that this is more than a local thing. X X X if these termites kept waving money in front of my boys' faces they must have been waving some in front of other boys' faces. I cannot conceive that Manhattan players are the only ones gotten to."

"The big guys haven't been caught yet," Norton added.

Manhattan, a 10-point underdog, beat DePaul 62-59 before a crowd of 11,000 in the garden but the attempted fix was not disclosed until yesterday afternoon.

Five Arrested

Then police reported that, with the undercover aid given by big Junius Kellogg, Manhattan sophomore player, they had arrested Henry Poppe, 24, and John Byrnes, 22, co-captains of last year's Manhattan team, and three alleged fixers, Irving Schwartzberg, 36; his brother, Benjamin, 35; and Cornelius Kelleher, 35.

The five were arraigned on charges of bribery and conspiracy. The Schwartzberg brothers were held without bail. Bail for Kelleher was set for $15,000, for Poppe $4,000 and for Byrnes $2,500. They are to be given a hearing on January 24. If convicted they face up to five years in prison and fines of $10,000.

Kellogg, a 22-year-old from Portsmouth, Va., was offered the $1,000 bribe last Thursday, but delayed giving an immediate answer. He then contacted Norton, who with other Manhattan authorities, informed the police. Kellogg was told to pretend to go along with the deal.

$1,000 Per Game

Out of this came the arrests and the disclosure by Breslin that Poppe and Byrnes, Manhattan's highest scorers last season, had been involved in fixes last year against Siena, Bradley, Santa Clara, New York university and St. Francis of Brooklyn.

For their work in these games, Breslin said, Poppe and Byrnes each received $1,000 per game or a total of $5,000 plus a weekly retainer of $40.

Siena, a 14-point underdog, beat Manhattan 48-33 on December 3, 1949; Santa Clara, a two-point underdog, won by 73-64 on December 26, 1949 and Bradley, a seven-point favorite, won by 89-87 on January 12, 1950.

In the NYU and St. Francis games, Breslin said, Poppe and Byrnes were instructed to play so the games would be won by more than the point spread. Manhattan beat NYU, 80-55, and St. Francis, 71-57.

Breslin said Poppe has made a "complete confession."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

TRAFFIC OF THE MIND

In reading of the newly discovered diary by James Boswell, the biographer of Dr. Samuel Johnson, just recently published under the title of "Boswell's London Journal," I came across this interesting line: "Conversation traffic of the mind."

At once I thought of the simile of the snarled traffic in our great cities and the so often confused traffic of conversation between human beings. How often we have listened to a run of talk that seemed to get nowhere, or that blocked the traffic of good talk that itched to get in the open!

Where a city's traffic is well regulated everything runs smoothly. It is the same with the traffic of the mind, where thoughts and expressions are so regulated that they join with others in a smooth joy of conversation. The good driver of a car is considerate of other drivers—gives them the right of way when it is their right, and so with good talk, it should join its place in neat order with the talk of others.

Even when no words are spoken there is a traffic in the mind, of thought—at times a heavy traffic, and at others smooth running thoughts in meditation fashion. And often, in solitude, a running prayer, as in an isolated spot as God's guest under the stars.

Again I refer to this Journal of Boswell's. It was written when he was hardly more than a boy, at the age of twenty-two. It is one of the frankest and most unashamed narrations since Montaigne. Lord after Lord and Lady after Lady are enumerated, as well as the names of Sheridan, Garrick, Goldsmith, and other top fame folks. It was during this period that Boswell met Dr. Samuel Johnson, whose biography he later wrote, giving him endless fame.

Surely one our great inheritance is this mind of ours, in which there is stationed a will to select the kind of traffic of ideas or thoughts that shall flow through it. That traffic can be congested and snarled, or made to run smoothly, well regulated, and inspiringly. The wisdom of the greatest may be directed through this mind of ours.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Magic Word." Protected, 1951, by the George Matthew Adams Service.

ABOUT FOODS

So many dishes in the book For granted now are taken, For no one ever names the cook Who first fried eggs and bacon. The man who first an oyster downed

To hunger, added courage, And surely she should be renowned Who thought of making porridge.

We know how sandwiches began, And pork found better roasted. But was it woman or a man Who first a bread slice toasted? Who thought that mincemeat would be fine

With crust above and under? Whenever I sit down to dine, About such things I wonder,

So much for granted now we take. Well fed, we're all contented. But still for every pie and cake Some one experimented. And this is what I wish I knew Whene'er I bend above it: Who first invented Irish stew For me to grow to love it?

MAGICIAN GIVES SCHOOL SHOW

HEAR REPORTS ON BASEBALL

Last Wednesday afternoon the entire public school was treated to a show when the Magician Rome performed in the main auditorium. Clarence Umble and Penny Gingell of the second grade were selected to assist and receive some instructions. The school is sponsoring a series of programs for the year under the production of the Antoinette Players Group. The children are looking forward to the next program scheduled for February 20, when Melville, the glass blower, will demonstrate the ancient art of glass blowing. This program will be at 11 a.m. but all others are in the afternoon. This will be the fourth and final program in this Antoinette Players Group series for this year. These programs have been well received. The P.T.A. has guaranteed to underwrite any deficit for these programs. The three programs produced this school year were: Scottie MacLean and his son, performing in full regalia with the bagpipe and playing real Scottish music. The other two were "The Bird Call Man" imitating bird calls and songs, and "The Marionette Players" giving the story of Dick Whittington and His Cat. This was particularly well liked by the children and all.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker Smith and daughter, Barbara, of Baltimore, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scott, Emmitsburg R. 1. The Chapel choir of Elias Evangelical Lutheran church met for rehearsal Wednesday night with Mrs. Clarence Bartholomew directing. After rehearsing the anthem for Sunday and for the January 28 service, they began work for the special Easter season music. Twenty-five members of the choir were in attendance and Miss Ruth Shuff accompanied for the rehearsal.

The electric current was off in the Emmitsburg area for about 20 minutes, Tuesday night, while a change over to a much higher voltage line serving the area was made by the Potomac Edison company.

The Entre Nous Sewing club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. George Eyster with eight members and one guest, Mrs. Allen Pryor, present. Michael Kormanski, Westwood, N. J., spent the week-end visiting with his wife and daughter who are spending sometime at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gillean.

Approximately 400 suppers were served on Saturday at the annual chicken and oyster supper held at the Tom's Creek Methodist church. This affair was held in the new building adjoining the church which by the labor of the members of the congregation was constructed during the summer and fall.

Father Rogers, a former pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church, Emmitsburg, died on Saturday morning at a hospital in Allentown, Pa., from a strep throat and leukemia.

Miss Anne Eckenrode has resigned her position as a secretary at Loyola college and has accepted a position as a secretary at the Cathedral, Baltimore. Miss Eckenrode is the daughter of Prof. B. J. Eckenrode, Emmitsburg.

Miss Alice Kelly, Miss Kitty Seiss and Paul Eckenrode spent the week-end in Philadelphia visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Leo Eckenrode and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Eckenrode. Miss Kelly remained in Philadelphia to spend a week visiting with relatives and friends.

Miss Marianne Sanders, Washington, spent the week-end with her parents.

MERRICK WILL AGAIN COACH RICHMOND 11

Richmond, Va., Jan. 18 (AP) — Ed Merrick, native of Pottsville, Pa., returned to the University of Richmond today as head football coach to try to bring gridiron glory back to his alma mater.

Merrick is 35 years old. For the past five years, he has guided the football forces at Fork Union (Va.) Military Academy. His success has been phenomenal. Under Merrick, Fork Union won 36 games and lost 11, currently has a string of 17 straight victories.

Merrick succeeds Karl A. (Dick) Esleek, who was plucked from the scholastic coaching ranks three years ago. Esleek's contract was not renewed when it expired at the close of the last campaign.

The new Richmond mentor is an exponent of the "T" formation, dresses up his offense with flankers and men in motion. During his college days at Richmond, Merrick was an All-Southern conference center in 1939.

As coach of the Spiders, Merrick faces a tremendous task. Richmond has won only five football games the last two years.

"I've a three-point program in mind," Merrick said. "We've got to sell the University of Richmond football team to the people of Richmond. We've got to restore the confidence of the University of Richmond students in the team. And we've got to get out and get some more players."

"I'm not kidding myself. You don't win football games without material. I don't want to waste any time beginning a campaign to collect players. I plan to make a trip shortly."

Merrick's college coach, Glenn Thistlethwaite, regarded the 170-pound Ed as a "coach on the field." Merrick proved a master at diagnosing plays, was an outstanding line backer and a deadly tackler.

Except for two years during the war, Merrick is the first Richmond alumnus to be named head coach at the school since 1895.

The name "meerschaum" is German for "seafoam," which is resembles. It is found as a wet mass buried in clayey earth and when brought to the surface may be cut with a knife, but when dried is light enough to float on water.

SENATORS ARE PLEASED WITH PLAN ON PRICES

By MAX HALL

Washington, Jan. 18 (P)—The government's decision to go ahead speedily with nationwide price and wage controls brought applause from Senators today and sent officials into a whirl of last-minute preparations.

In the absence of any official word on exact timing, the best guess seemed to be that a general price freeze, probably rolling back present high levels somewhat, would come perhaps within a week—almost certainly not much longer.

This was just one development in a marked speed-up in defense mobilization.

President Truman laid down late yesterday a national manpower policy calling for voluntary measures now. But he cautioned that sweeping controls will be sought if necessary. The idea is to see that defense industries and other essential undertakings get the men they need.

Then, too, the Defense department sent Congress a drastic new military manpower program. It also outlined an $87,000,000,000 program to buy the arms needed now and expand production facilities.

The Senate Small Business committee hoped to get more details from Wilson today about the coming controls. This committee called Wilson and William H. Harrison, boss of the Defense Production Administration, to a public hearing.

RADIO

New York, Jan. 18 (P)—Item by item, here are some of the latest gleanings from the radio-TV scene:

Television applause is coming to Richard Rodgers, Show Business composer, in the form of a special NBC-TV hour's program to mark his 25 years in the theater. It is planned for the night of March 4 in place of the regular Sunday TV playhouse.

Rodgers, long associated with Lorenz Hart and later Oscar Hammerstein II, has contributed an important share of Broadway's modern music. The television show will tell that story with the help of such guests as Mary Martin, Celeste Holm, June Havoc and others.

Title of the broadcast is "America Applauds," an evening for Richard Rodgers."

Studio One, weekly CBS television drama, next Monday night, is to present the historical play, "The Trial of John Peter Zenger," pre-revolutionary printer imprisoned for eight months by a colonial governor whose administration his newspaper attacked. The Zenger case is regarded as the opening wedge that gave this country a free press.

Edwin S. Friendly, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association and vice-president-treasurer of the Zenger Memorial fund, is to pay tribute to him.

Jack Benny's second CBS-TV show, set for January 28 after postponement, will have Tony Martin and Faye Emerson as guests in addition to Frank Fontaine, comedian exponent of the John C. Sivon sweepstakes winner story, who has appeared in the Benny radio program lately.

Topics tonight (Thursday): NBS—8 Henry Aldrich Family; 8:30 Robert Young's Father Knows Best; 9 Dragnet; Police Drama; 9:30 We the People; 10 Screen directors, "The Big Lift."

CBS—7:30 Club; Bob Crosby; 8 FBI in Peace and War; 8:30—Mr. Keen, the tracer; 9 Eve Arden in Suspense; 9:30 James Hilton Playhouse; 10 Lineup drama; 10:30 Or-

FACTS ABOUT GRAPE GROWING

Because grapes are not as commonly grown as potatoes, corn and similar basic food crops, beginners or persons otherwise without experience in grape culture often desire but hesitate to ask for information in the primary steps in planting and care. For the benefit of these as well as to help growers who have common problems, a few practical facts are offered.

Grapes thrive on a wide range of soil types, providing in every case the loam is deep and well drained. Like most other plants, grape vines do not thrive on shallow or hard soils, and particularly where the water level is high. Of course, thorough preparation is advisable because the original plants will occupy the site for many years and in that time actually increase their demands on the soil for nutrients.

If grape vines are planted where the soil is naturally deep and fertile, little or no additional preparation is needed other than deep spading. But if the lower stratum is not mellow and rich, and lacks organic matter, it will be a wise investment of time and labor to work into the lower rooting level plenty of rich loam, well rotted compost or livestock manure or a mixture of these.

Idle fence rows are often ideal places to grow a few additional grape vines for home use and local marketing purposes. Here the soil is usually rich, mellow and deep from years of idleness and accumulating organic matter.

Planting may be done in late fall after the plants are completely dormant or in early spring before growth starts. Where there is danger of alternate freezing and thawing over winter or where snow does not lie on the ground for long periods, early March planting is preferred.

One-year old plants from a reliable nursery are recommended. Inexperienced growers may wonder why the larger and better rooted two-year old plants are not better. The explanation is found in the fact that two-year old nursery plants are usually those which were too puny and otherwise inferior to sell as one-year old specimens.

Of course, plants are easily grown from cuttings, either half-ripe woods rooted in late summer and early fall or hardwood cuttings planted in sand in the spring.

Where grapes are grown for shade or screen as well as for fruit, growers prefer overhead or other special types of support. But where fruit production is the main aim, two-wire trellises are recommended. Building the supports is a job for mild days in winter so tramping and other interference will not be necessary after planting time. If planted along wire fences or even in fence rows of other types of fence, no other supports are necessary. The two-wire trellis is particularly efficient because it permits easy and effective spraying.

It is always a wise move to grow varieties known to thrive in the immediate neighborhood rather than experiment with new or untried varieties. Still among favorites are the Concord and Warden among the blue sorts; Niagara as a good white; Delaware, Brighton and Catawba among the reds.

The editor invites all questions.

No Opposition To Huge New Carrier

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—With no opposition in sight, House leaders have called up for action the navy's proposal to build an aircraft carrier huge enough to act as a base for planes carrying atomic bombs.

This 57,000-ton carrier, which would be largest in the fleet, is part of the $2,000,000,000 ship construction and modernization program for which the navy is seeking authorization.

Prospects were that the House would pass the bill and send it on to the Senate by nightfall. It is the first measure of any consequence to reach the floor of either House at the new session which started January 3.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House armed services committee, which unanimously approved the navy program, said it contemplates building of 173 new ships and modernization of 291 existing vessels.

ISLANDER WILL GET NEW SUIT

Des Moines, (AP)—A Scot on lonely Tristan da Cunha Island in the south Atlantic will soon be the best dressed man on the island, thanks to an Iowa utilities executive and an Iowa banker.

When the cruise ship Caronia anchored off the island, sometimes called the "world's loneliest outpost," Ben Webster, secretary of the Iowa Utilities association, was one of the few passengers who risked the rough trip ashore in one of the small boats in which the islanders rowed out to meet the ship. Webster's "native" companion, William Gordon Glass, confided the thing he wanted most in the world was a new suit of clothes. This Webster promised to send.

Back in Des Moines, Webster sized up Albert Robertson, first vice-president of the Iowa-Des Moines National Bank and Trust Company, and knew he had the problem solved. "Got an extra suit?" Webster asked the medium-built banker.

Hence when William Gordon Glass opens his soon-to-arrive package on tiny Tristan da Cunha Island, he'll find a suit to fit.

When Napoleon was exiled to St.

Helena 135 years ago, a British garrison was stationed on Tristan da Cunha. After a year's duty the troops were withdrawn. But seven of the garrison, mostly Scots, elected to remain. The island's 250 present inhabitants answer to just seven family names and are descendants of those seven soldiers and their imported wives. It's a good bet that none of them ever had such a conservative suit before.

NO ROUND TRIP TICKET

Pearl, Ill., (AP)—The next flying gadget Chet Helmer makes will be a boomerang. Helmer's sleek, radio-controlled model airplane circled over the golf course and disappeared. Helmer searched the area on foot for two days, then continued the search by air. The plane was valued at more than $100.

Livy, the great Roman historian, lived from 59 B.C. to 17 A.D.

Name-Calling In Italy's Cold War

Rome, (AP)—The East vs. West "Cold War" is a hot political battle in Italy with mud-slinging and name-calling in which even the newspapermen is fair game.

"L'Unità," official Communist paper, started one fight with a full page charge that eleven of the leading writers and executives of anti-Communist newspapers were once important cogs in Benito Mussolini's fascist press.

A week later "Il Quotidiano," Catholic Action paper, used a full page to contend that nine former Mussolini propagandists now were among the leading writers and editors of Italy's pro-Moscow press.

EIGHT CABINET MEMBERS IN AS "ACTING" HEADS

Harrisburg, Jan. 18 (AP)—Eight of Gov. John S. Fine's cabinet members functioned only as acting department heads today in the wake of a seething Senate impasse on confirmations.

His designation of cabinet appointees as acting secretaries provided a temporary expedient to preclude a slowdown in state government operations.

The slowdown threat was posed by a stand of Senate Democrats that none of Fine's cabinet would be confirmed unless he also submitted the name of an attorney general.

Can Block Confirmation

"I do not propose to be hijacked into any dictated action because of a strong dislike which opposition leadership may have for an official whose name is not offered for confirmation," he told a news conference late yesterday.

The new governor referred to Democratic opposition to the continuance of Charles J. Margiotti as attorney general. Margiotti is now conducting a state probe into "free work" charges in Democratic-controlled Pittsburgh.

The 20 Democratic senators are in a position to block Senate confirmations. Republicans, although in the majority with 30 senators, are four votes short of the necessary 34 to confirm.

Fine insisted that Margiotti is eligible to remain on the job, although he told newsmen that the attorney general intends to resign after finishing up "important litigation."

Rulings By Margiotti

Margiotti himself prepared a ruling for Fine in which he said that he and Commonwealth Secretary Gen. D. Smith can continue in office as full cabinet members without the "acting" designation.

Fine said that despite the fact that both are appointees of Gov. James H. Duff without Senate confirmation, they have no fixed terms and can continue to serve until the final day of the current legislative session.

Margiotti's ruling also advised Fine that the governor is within his rights in applying the "acting" designation to these department heads: William C. Brown, Welfare; Otto F. Messner, Revenue; Artemas C. Leslie, Insurance; Andrew J. Sordoni, Commerce; Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans, Public Assistance; David Walker, Labor and Industry; Dr. Russell E. Teague, Health, and Alan Reynolds, Property and Supplies.

Salaries Started

Brown, Leslie and Messner are holdovers from the Duff cabinet who were appointed since the 1949 Legislature and who have not received Senate confirmation. The others are new appointees to the cabinet.

All will receive the $15,000-a-year salary fixed for cabinet heads and perform all of the duties required of departmental heads. It means,

YANK NIMRODS FIND GERMANY'S HUNTING GOOD

By DON DOANE

Frankfurt, Germany, Jan. 18 (AP)—Ever since the war, southern Germany has been a happy hunting ground for American sportsmen.

Deer, wild fowl, wild boar and rabbits have fallen by the thousands to U.S. soldiers and civilians. Fat strings of fish have been pulled from streams and lakes.

All the time, Germans have been barred from hunting because they were forbidden to have weapons.

Now the ban has been partly lifted to permit issuance of 75,000 hunting guns to west Germans.

Germans Complain

But the Germans are complaining that the Americans have depleted the stocks of wild game by their five years of happy hunting.

American officials say this is not so.

"German authorities this year increased the number of deer which may be killed and extended the hunting season," says Carl W. Strauss of Atlanta, U.S. high commission authority on fish, game and forestry. "Does this indicate extinction of game?" he challenges.

"German claims about American depredations of German game may have been true in the first couple of years after the war," Strauss concedes.

Claim No Serious Damage

"We had a lot of troops here then, fresh out of battle, eager to use their guns for hunting instead of war. I have heard tales of them hunting game with machine guns and such unsportsmanlike acts."

"But the German's own statistics indicate that there was no serious permanent damage to the stocks of wild game," Strauss says.

"And in the last two years at least, American hunting has been carefully regulated. In that time, we have not even shot as much wild game as the German game management program authorized."

The fact that the deer quota was raised this year by the Germans themselves is proof that there are plenty left. The only game shortage I've heard of is in pheasants and partridge, and that is only in a few small areas."

Strauss was with the U.S. forest service 17 years before he came here, and is an ardent sportsman.

Conservationists

The Germans long have been famous for their careful preservation of wild life. Their hunting code is strict. An annual census of wild life is taken, and the number of kills permitted is carefully specified in detail for each local district.

American hunting regulations have been drawn to stay within those quotas—and Strauss insists Americans have not even shot their authorized limit.

"Why, they kill more deer in Colorado every year than we do in Germany," he says.

Many of these German complaints have been the natural reaction of people forced to watch aliens enjoy the sport they are denied, U.S. officials said.

Now that Germans can hunt again, a careful division of the game has been made between Germans and Americans—based on the number of hunters of each nationality.

In the U.S. zone, the Germans are authorized 19,116 shotguns and 9,758 rifles. There are about 15,000 licensed American hunters.

Is Sport For Wealthy

So the Americans have been allotted 40 per cent of the deer on private land—where 80 per cent of German deer are found—and 80 per cent of the deer on public land.

But the Germans want the hunting code restored to its pre-war basis. This would mean no one could

ARREST MAN IN CAR THEFT RING

Philadelphia, Jan. 18 (AP)—A Wilmington, Del., man described as the head of a ring of automobile thieves that stole an estimated $2,000,000 worth of cars in 10 years has been arrested by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

FBI agents identified him as Clarence W. Graham, 57, who, until recently ran a used car business at Minquadele, Del., five miles south of Wilmington.

Numerous sets of dies used to stamp false serial numbers, together with equipment for switching motors and otherwise disguising stolen cars were found in Graham's shop, the FBI said.

Autos stolen by the ring operating in Pennsylvania and Delaware have been recovered along the Eastern seaboard from Connecticut to Georgia, the FBI added.

Graham was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with transporting stolen cars from the Whitehead Metal Products company, Philadelphia, and Noel Weaver, of Malvern, Pa.

Graham was convicted in 1926 of manslaughter in the fatal shooting of Gordon C. Riley, during an argument over the purchase of a used car. He was released on probation in 1936 after serving 10 years of a 20-year term.

DON'T LET A COLD GO DOWN ON YOUR CHEST!

Hunting has never been a sport for the masses here. Only the wealthy and high officials could afford it.

In the long run, American officials say, the United States will more than pay for the game its hunters have taken. Payment for the value of the game shot is expected to be included in the final peace settlement with Germany. In the meantime, all hunting and fishing license fees paid by Americans—some $50,000 yearly—are going to the German government.

DEAF CHILDREN NEED SPECIAL UNDERSTANDING

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
(By The Associated Press)

The first three or four years are the most important of any child's life, but they are doubly important to the hard-of-hearing or deaf child. Parents must learn all they can about their hearing-handicapped child so that he will be able to help him at home.

Dr. Jean Utley, associate director, Speech and Hearing Rehabilitation Clinic, College of Medicine, University of Illinois, has just written a book, "What's Its Name? A Guide to Speech and Hearing Development," (University of Illinois Press), that is just the thing for parents of such handicapped children. More than 149 pages of simple line drawings illustrate one-syllable and two-syllable words of the everyday toys, food, animals, furniture, colors, members of the family, people in general, etc., with which a child comes in contact. Says Dr. Utley:

"The child must be given every opportunity to learn what speech is, and learn how he can communicate with others. If he is to understand you and make you understand him, he must take part in everyday happenings."

Teachers Can Help

"The longer you put off teaching him to understand you by reading your lips, to imitate things you say, and to respond to sound, the longer you are putting off his educational progress. If you wait to teach him what speech is, and how to understand and be understood, until he is five or six, instead of beginning at the age of one or two, he would be retarded several years educationally. Neither you nor he can afford that."

"The ear doctor (otologist), the psychologist (the person who can determine his mentality), show you now he compares with other children of his age, and explain some of his behavior to you), and the teacher of the deaf and hard-of-hearing can help you a great deal. They can help you both in understanding your child and in knowing how to treat him."

Three important ways you can help your child, she says, are to keep a check on his physical condition, know how he compares in intelligence with other children of his age, and teach him to make up for the hearing he lacks. For example, at the age of two, he learns more from you, his father, and his family than he does in a school situation. If he could have the advantage of both family and school, he would be a very lucky youngster. "But you must remember," she says, "that you are helping him to be a child; that you are not just working with the handicap."

Use All Senses

You may have decided, she says, that because junior is deaf, there is no reason to talk to him or try to make him hear. If you do think this way, you're wrong! If he is very young you can't be sure whether he has hearing or not. You must talk to him just as if he hears everything. You must talk to him on his level—both from the standpoint of words that children his age understand and from a position where he can see you talk. He has to learn to associate what he sees and what he hears with the whole situation. The key to this

Urge Segregation Of Sex Offenders

Harrisburg, Jan. 18 (P) — A legislative report has called for segregation of sex offenders in commonwealth institutions. The move was recommended by the joint state government commission as a major approach toward reduction of sex crimes in Pennsylvania.

The commission, which is the research arm of the General Assembly, also urged "immediate establishment" of the Pennsylvania correctional diagnostic and classification center authorized by the 1945 Legislature but never activated.

Judges complain generally there is no place to send sex offenders for corrective treatment," a commission spokesman said. He added: "You can't hope to provide possible curative treatment for these persons until you can first find a place to put them."

The report noted that the legislative attitude toward offenders, including sex offenders, has changed over the years. Increasingly the emphasis has shifted from simple confinement of a convicted offender to confinement supplemented by treatment," the report stated.

The westernmost capital in Europe is Lisbon, Portugal.

YORK TEACHERS TO GET PAY INCREASES

York, Pa., Jan. 18 (P) — The York school board has granted temporary cost of living increases of $5 a week to teachers and other full time school employees.

The increases will be retroactive to January 1 and will be paid through June 30, bringing the full benefit to $130.

A $500 annual salary rise was asked last month by the York City Education association, which took the lead in seeking the cost of living increase.

Hourly employees of the school district were granted a five cents an hour wage adjustment. School cafeteria cashiers, formerly earning 80 cents an hour, now will receive $1.

The school board gave the authorization last night.

Harrisburg, Jan. 18 (P) — Pennsylvania lawmakers proposed Tuesday that trucks be used to haul shad around power dams, now blocking their access to the upper Susquehanna river. The recommendation was advanced by the joint state government commission, a research agency for the general assembly.

The proposal is the result of a four-year study of what to do about migratory fish which are stopped in their upstream travel by power dams on the lower portions of the Susquehanna.

PLANE KILLS DEER

Morristown, N. J., Jan. 18 (P) — New Jersey deer have a new worry today as if hunters' guns and bows and arrows weren't enough. Tuesdays two of them strolled onto a runway at Morristown airport. A DC-3 transport, coming in for a landing, promptly killed them both.

Ancient peoples believed in the existence of "adamant," supposed to be a metal or a stone of impene- trable hardness.

WILSON URGES VAST DEFENSE EFFORT BY U.S.

he said, "The power of law must be invoked. Whatever the causes for delay up to now, we must proceed with courage, speed and forthrightness to adopt the controls which will insure stability and fairness in our civilian economy."

His words were accepted as virtual assurance that a general price freeze is imminent.

Wilson announced that the Defense Department's new program calls for an outlay of $87,000,000 between now and the end of June, 1952. Besides that, he said, perhaps another $10,000,000 must be obligated in the same period for non-military aid to Allies, atomic energy development and for expansion of facilities to supply basic raw materials "sufficient to meet the needs of possible total war."

"When we reach that status, that is the time to talk the language—the only language—the Kremlin understands," he asserted last night in an address to the Poor Richard club which honored him with a gold medal of achievement.

All-out military preparedness, he said, "is the way to peace—unfortunately the only way to peace the Russians have left open to us."

Voluntary Controls Out

Wilson said the kind of rearmament program he considers vital would average out $1,000 for every man woman and child in the country in the next two years.

At the same time Wilson declared federal controls must be clamped swiftly on wages, prices, rents and materials to keep the nation's economy from "running away."

"Voluntary controls will not work,"

"Sustain operations in Korea."

HARNESS RACE BETTING MORE

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—Although rain washed out 15 and one-half days and nights of racing on harness racing's grand circuit in 1950, betting averages increased and attendance almost matched previous high seasons.

During 20 weeks of major league harness racing at 14 grand circuit tracks, 15 were spent at pari mutuel tracks where 634,133 persons wagered $24,499,364. There were 25 grand circuit racing weeks and 29 with pari mutuel betting in 1949.

The average weekly bet last season was $1,626,216, compared with $1,531,312 for 1949. Average attendance was 42,276 in 1950, and 44,356

This was the first disclosure of the blueprint of the overall military mobilization plan. It requires, first, training supplies and equipment for the forces which could be sent into combat at once, and second, the equipment necessary to keep the troops fighting for a year.

Not Beyond Capacity

Additionally, Wilson went on, the program provides for equipment and material to:

"1. Sustain operations in Korea.

the previous year.

There were nine tracks in 1949 with pari mutuel betting, and only eight last year. Attendance in 1949 was 887,123, and betting, $30,626,233.

At six fairs visited by the grand circuit last year, 12 of the scheduled 30 racing days were rained out, and as a result attendance was off sharply.

York Springs

York Springs—Mr. and Mrs. Francis Worley were among the guests at the inaugural ball Tuesday night at Zembo Mosque in Harrisburg. Wednesday evening Mr. Worley will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Hallam Lions club in York county.

"3. Make sufficient equipment available to civilian components of defense (National Guard and other reserves) to meet their training needs.

"4. Help equip those nations who have joined with us to resist aggression."

Pittsburgh, Jan. 18 (AP)—The Pennsylvania railroad is spending more than $600,000,000 on a four-year program of improvements and new equipment. Walter S. Franklin, PRR president, disclosed the expansion at a Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner last night.

Lumen F. Norris has been appointed to head the local campaign in the 1951 March of Dimes which opened officially in the county this week. The Frederick county and city goal for 1951 is $12,000. The county chapter failed to reach last year's goal by $1000.

Attorney Alton J. Bennett, Frederick, is the county chairman and he has appointed Mr. Norris the chairman for Emmitsburg, who will be assisted locally by a group of solicitors as in former years. The drive gets underway this year with 15 Frederick county polio patients requiring assistance at the present time. Those in charge of the drive have pointed out that the need is much greater now at the national level.

WILL CONFER ON FUNDS FOR FLOOD CONTROL

Okays Huge Order Of Gun Carriages

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—The army has told the American Car and Foundry company to go ahead with plans to fill an order for approximately $53,000,000 worth of anti-aircraft gun carriages. The work will be done at the company's plant in Berwick, Pa. The secretary of the army gave approval in a "letter of order" yesterday.

"We will confer with the governor at his earliest convenience," said Sen. George B. Stevenson (D-Clin-ton).

Stevenson and Sens. Samuel B. Wolfe (R-Union) and John G. Snowden (R-Lycoming) introduced Bill No. 1 into the 1951 Senate session asking aid for communities along the river's west branch.

The bill would ask for federal aid in addition to state aid. It calls for the construction of five impounding dams on the west branch and its tributaries.

May Start Big Dam

The exact details of the plan have not been worked out, Stevenson admitted, adding: "But we must give the residents and business firms along the river some ray of hope. The whole economy of the west branch valley is at stake." Stevenson declared. "We have had three major floods since 1946 and for all we know there may be one tomorrow."

The Clinton county Senator explained that the program probably would start with the construction of one of the five large dams or with a series of smaller auxiliary dams.

A survey completed by U. S. Army engineers in December, 1949, called for the construction of dams at these five points: First Fork, on Sinnemahoning creek; near Curwensville at the head waters of the west branch of the Susquehanna; Kettle creek, near the outlet of Summerson run; Blanchard, on Bald Eagle creek, near State Route 44, and Keating, on the west branch just above the Sinnemahoning.
